SimsMOTION FOR LEAVE TO SUBMIT

NOW COMES, the Petitioner, Marlon Cortez Ross, In Propria Persona, (Pro se) and respectfully Prays this Honorable Court Grant to Petitioner Leave to submit the Complaint for Damages pursuant to Rule 65 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, brought forth herewith and contemporaneous to the instant Motion. Petitioner appears as Pro se, and Prays liberal construction in a light most favorable to Petitioner. Haines v. Kerner, 404 U.S. 519, 520 (1972); Erickson v. Pardus, 551 U.S. 89, 91 (2007).

Petitioner is not asking this Honorable Court for permission to amend at this time. Petitioner is asking to submit a complaint for Damages. Petitioner's Eighth Amendment under the United States Constitution has been violated. Petitioner submits the instant Motion in good faith as a Pro se litigant, unlearned in the Law, unsure as to under which circumstances a litigant must seek Leave before the Honorable Court, and in all respectful deference to the Court. The formal cognizance of Petitioner's submitting his Complaint for Damages is of the greatest importance, hence the caution shown through submitting the instant motion.

Prayer for Relief

WHEREFORE, Petitioner Prays the instant Motion is well-taken by this Honorable court, and that in consideration of Petitioner's Pro se status, the Court Grant Leave to Petitioner to submit the contemporaneously tendered Rule 65 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedures.

IT IS SO PRAYED.

Respectfully submitted,

MARLON CORTEZ ROSS
